Wisteria

I made a flute and a mask. My mum and brother helped me and my dad. I enjoyed decorating it and sticking the 2d shapes on.

Wisteria

I made a drum with my mum. I did patterns and coloured it in. I stuck on so many gems because I like them. The drum is from Africa.

Chestnut

I made different coloured hands. My mum and my dad and my sister helped me . I used card and glue to make a circle with hands. I draw my hand and I cut it and my mum helped me to stick it on the card.

Chestnut

My mum helped me. I used pen and paper and glue. I drew the hearts and I was sticking them on paper. I was happy. The hearts are my favourite parts because I like hearts. I was cutting and sticking.

Mulberry

My grandma and my mum helped me to make some African origami dolls. We sewed it using tights and my dad's old trousers. We cut up African cloths to make the clothes for the dolls. My favourite part was helping my mum make the clothes and do the hairstyles.

Mulberry

My mum helped me to make a drum. We wrapped a bowl and made a drum. I decorated it with silver paper. My favourite part was decorating the drum with my mum.

Juniper

My mum helped me with my family homework. We cut some cardboard into a square and then we traced around our hands on different coloured paper and cut the out. The different colours represent different skin colours and that even if everyone is different, everyone is pretty.

Juniper

My dad helped me with the homework. He stuck on the wheels with hot glue gun and my mum painted it and cut out the windows. My mum used some plastic from around the house for the windows. My favourite part was the painting and the story.

Willow

I made an African necklace. My uncle helped me. I used coloured tissue paper.

Willow

I made an African drum. My dad helped me. I used two flower points for the main body and yarn for the strings. I used cloth for the base of the drum. I enjoyed playing the drum. It sounded really good.

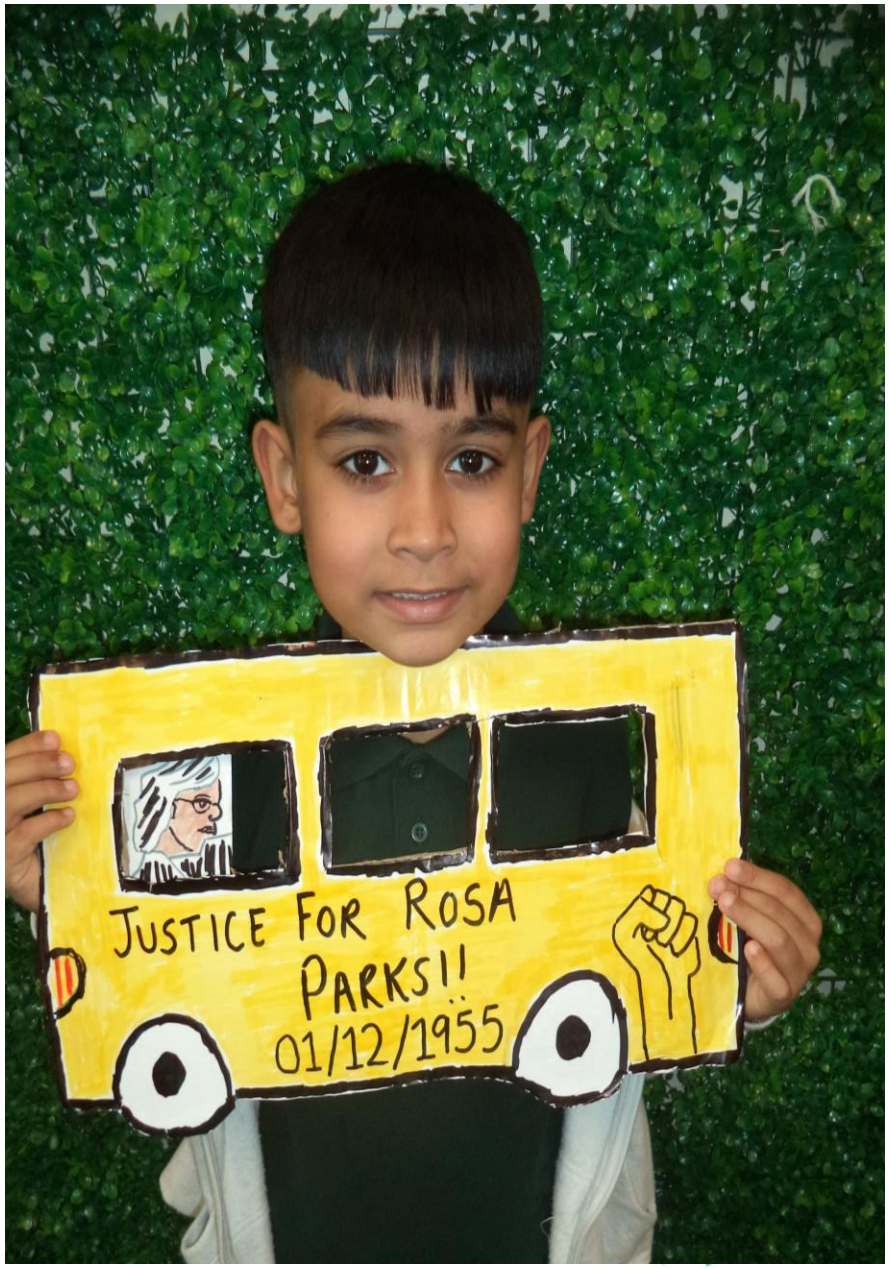

Birch

My bus is the one Rosa Park sat in. It is made out of lots of things. I used paint, colouring, cardboard, lollysticks and super glue. I made it with my mum and dad. I had fun making it.

Birch

I made a bus with Rosa Parks in it. I made it out of cardboard. My mum helped me. She coloured it and I helped her.

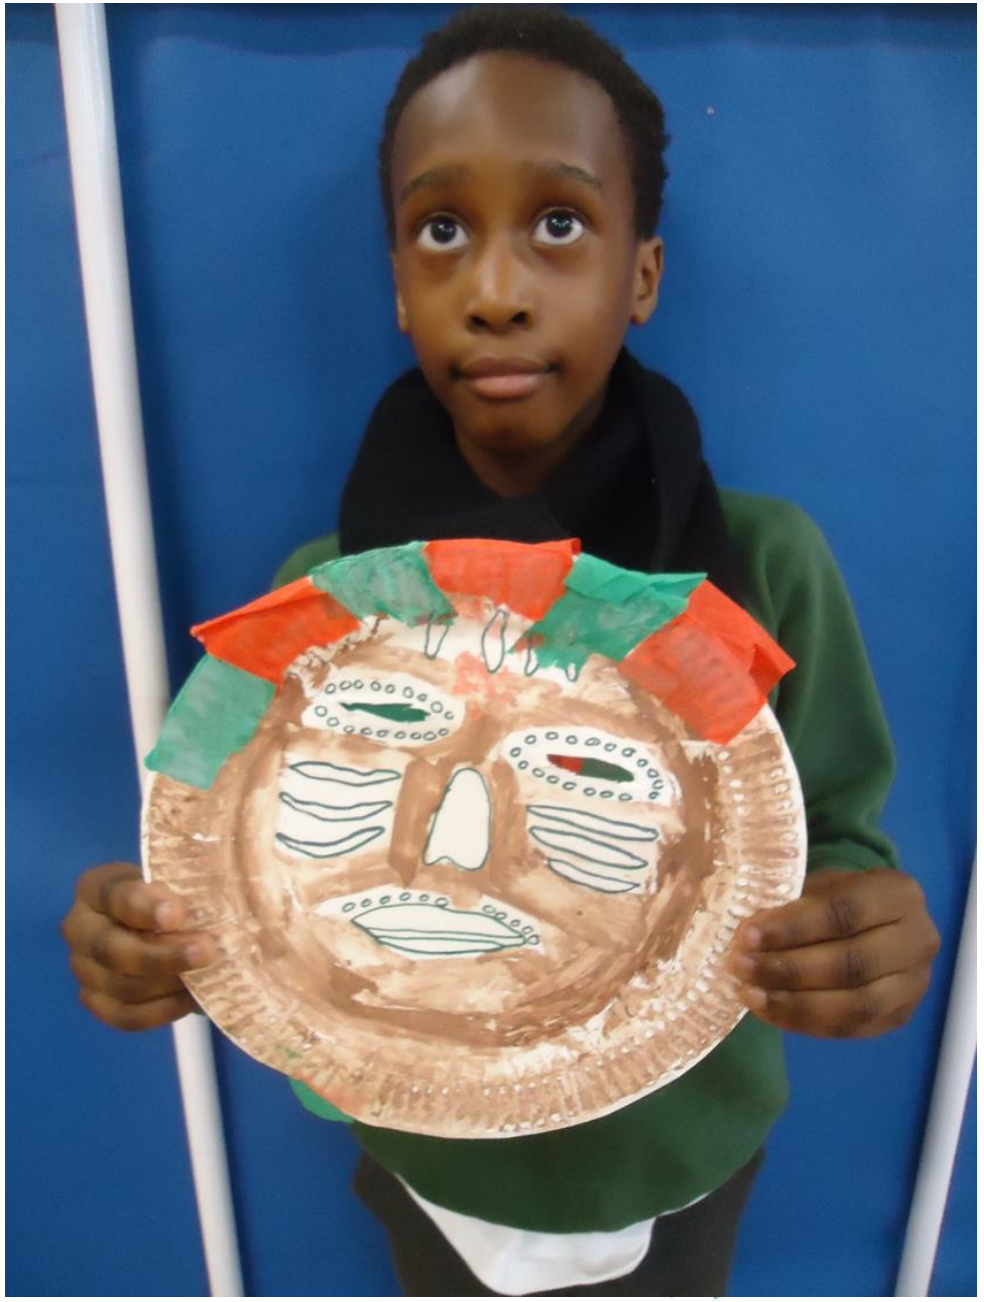

Ash

I made a drum for Black History month. My mum helped me to make the drum.

Ash

I made a mask. My mum helped me with my family homework.

Maple

My sister helped with the hot glue. To do my homework I used my paint pallet and mixed yellow and orange paint together. Then, I added different colour dots.

When I finished I felt proud. Doing the dots was my favourite part because it was quick.

Maple

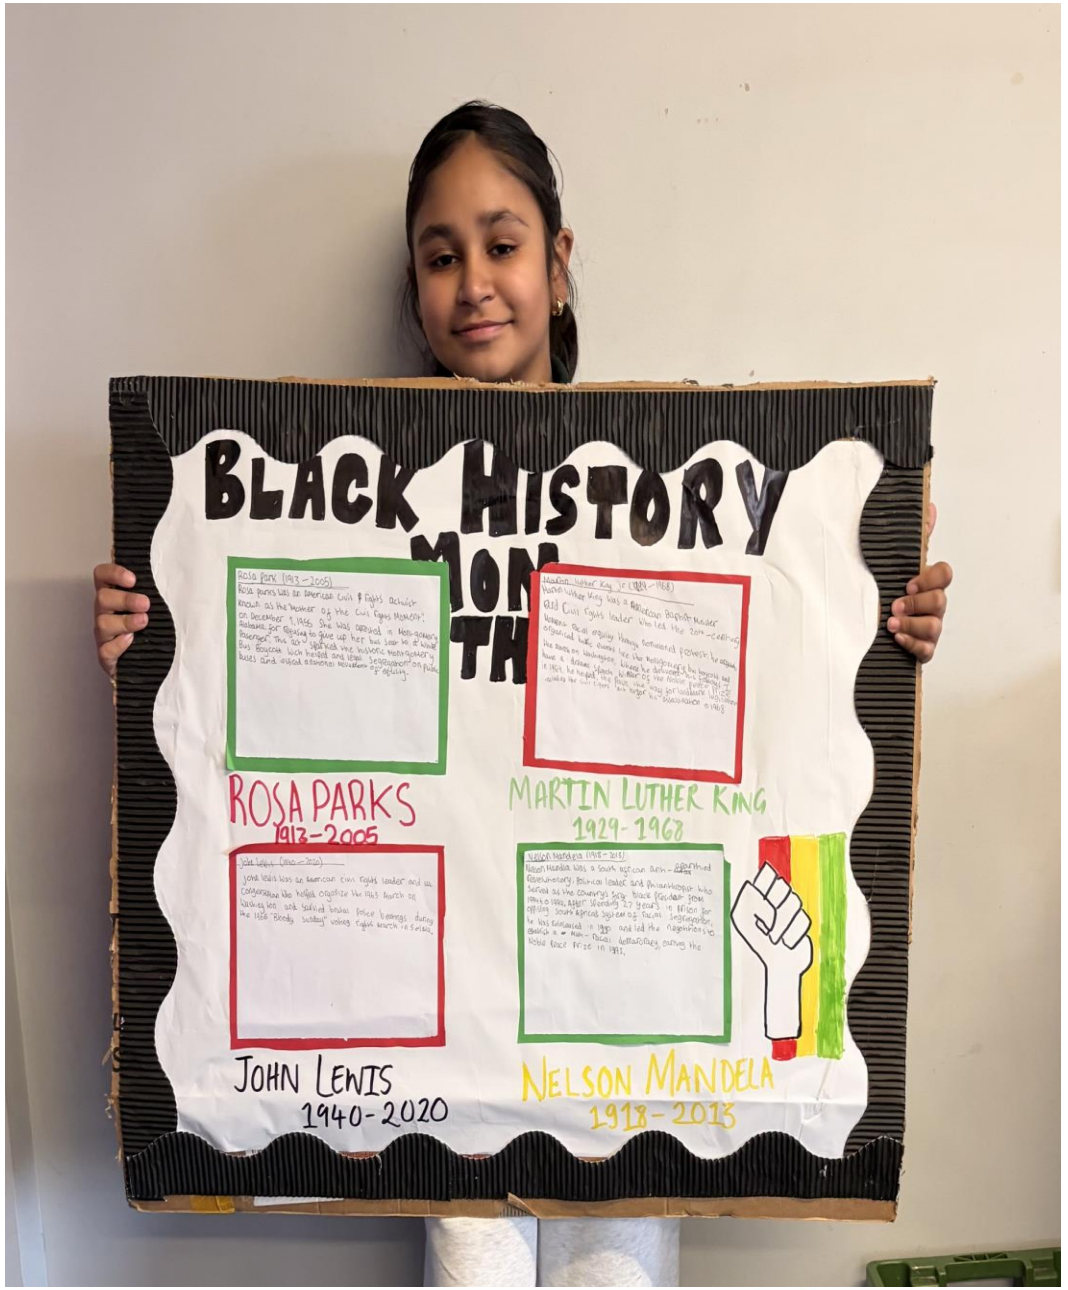

I did the homework all by myself. I saw the idea on my iPad.

When I finished, I felt proud of myself. My favourite part was cutting.

Aspen

My mum helped me make a poster about different people who stood up for black rights. We used a big box and cut cardboard. We used a border to frame it. We then stuck the information in the middle.

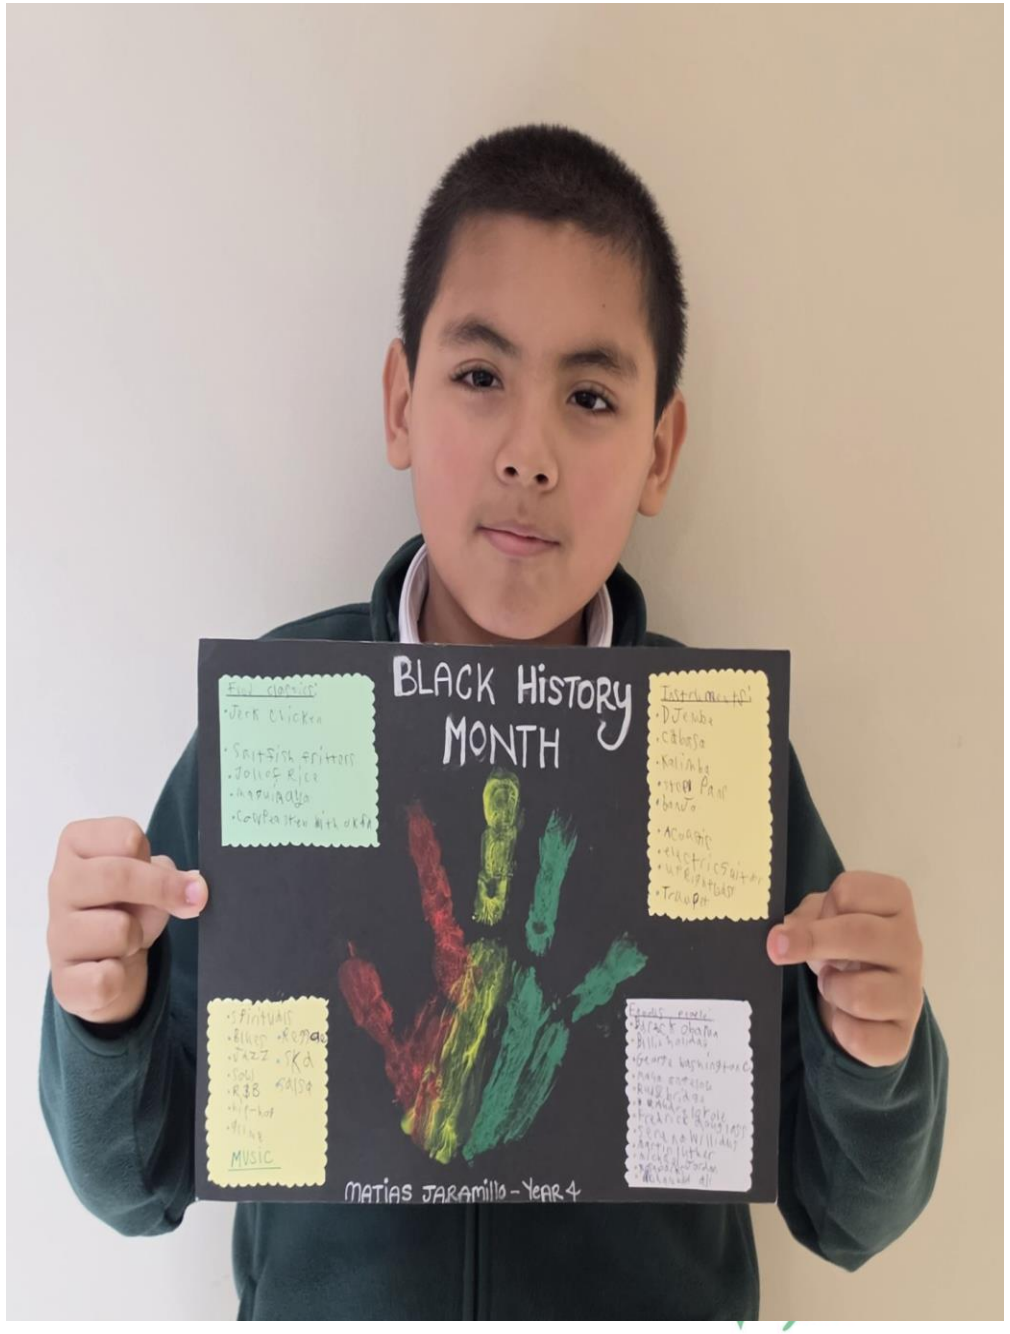

Aspen

I made a map of Africa using an old cardboard box, paper, tape and felt-tip pens. I used Google to find out the colours and designs of the different African flags. My mum helped me with my project. I really enjoyed making my map and learning about the countries in Africa!

Blackthorn

I really enjoyed making the Black History Month poster with my mum. I used cardboard and colourful pencils to write key information. My mum helped me with some of the writing.

Blackthorn

I made a drum with my sister and on the base of the drum I used cardboard and on the top. I put paper to make a drum sound. Around the drum I used pipe cleaners.

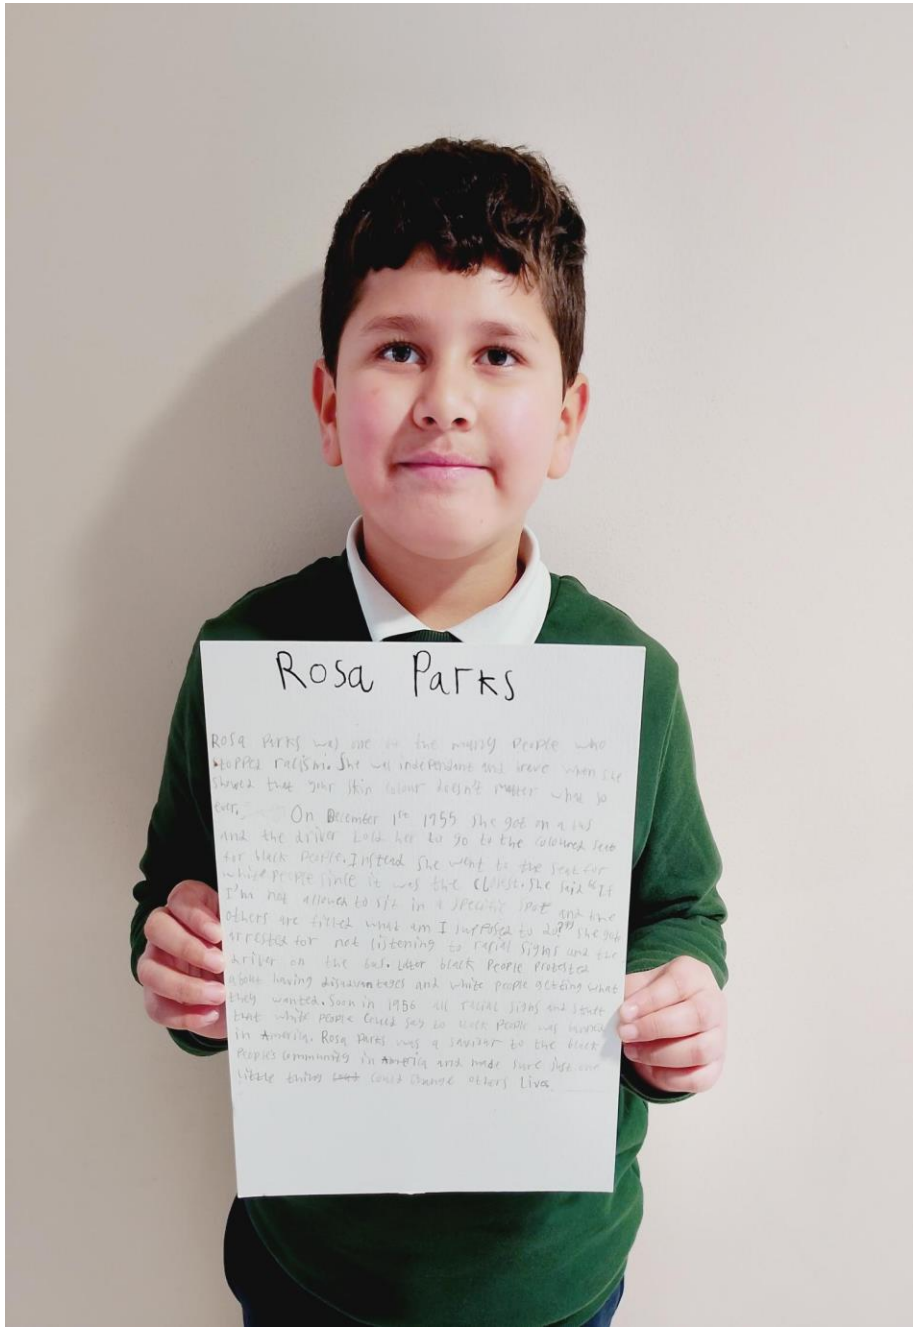

Beech

My dad told me about Rosa Park's refusing to give up her seat which started the Montgomery bus boycott.

Carob

My mum helped me get answers from Google. I got a piece of card and wrote down information from the internet. I feel happy about what I had done because I felt I worked hard to make it. My favourite part was writing in bold pen so I knew who I was writing about. I used research that was spread around lots of websites.

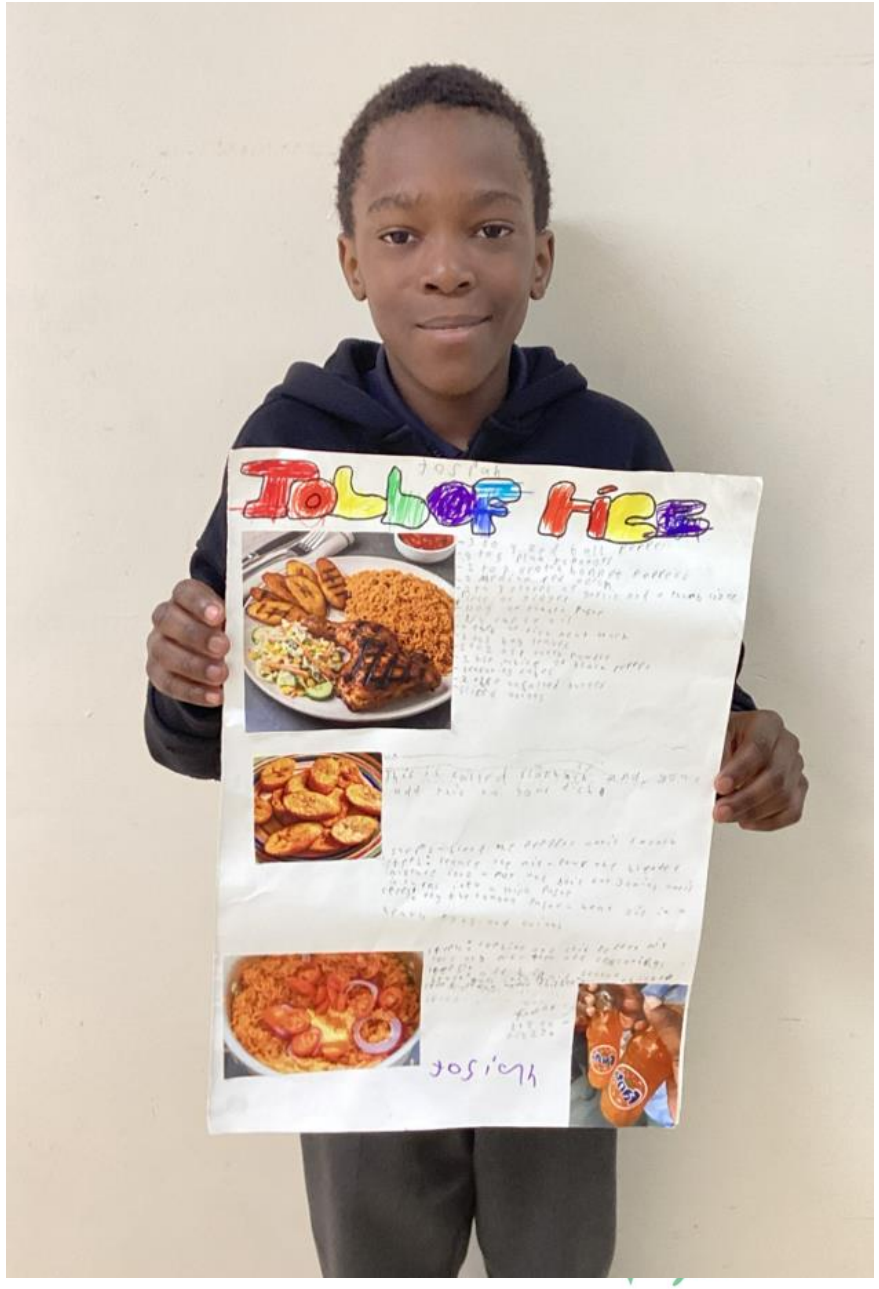

Carob

My mum helped me with my family homework. I used paint, plastic containers for the shape, yarn, hot glue gun and an old t shirt. First we sprayed the glue, then we painted it. After that we attached the yarn onto it. Finally we use the t -shirt for the top and made sure it was stable. I feel good about making it and it was lots of fun. My favourite part was the painting and I used glueing and sticking. I took inspiration from a picture that I saw.

Hawthorn

I did a recipe for chicken with jollof rice. I did this with my mum and my brother and sister. We eat this food, it is yummy. People from Africa eat it. I love it.
